On a warm day in 2050, Frank and Mary Smith wake up in their comfortable house and turn on the computer in their bedroom to get the latest (最新的) news. They used to read The Guardian, but changed to electronic (电子的) newspapers many years ago.

Frank first reads some news about space: another space flight has returned from Mars. Then they turn to sport news. As they watch the screen, Mary pays for a robot to make coffee for them.

Then Frank disappears into another room to join a video meeting with his business partners around the world. Frank is a computer engineer. Mary is still in their bedroom. She picks up the video phone to talk to her assistant (助理). Mary also has a job and she is doing medical research. Both she and Frank used to have office jobs in London, but in 2040 they decided to move to the seaside and work from home.

Frank and Mary have one daughter, Louise. She goes to school only one day a week, mainly to play with other students. Classrooms disappeared in 2035 because there was no longer any need for them: the Internet had made it much easier to learn at home.

Louise, now thirteen, is studying Chinese at present, which has become a world language as important as English. Louise has many Chinese friends. They share many things online.

According to the family doctor, Louise will live to be at least 130. Her wish is to work for a few decades (十年) and then spend her time studying music and painting.

根据材料内容选择最佳答案。

() 6. The Guardian is probably _____.

A. science fiction B. a magazine
C. a book D. a newspaper

() 7. Frank reads news about ____ first.

A. travel B. space

If you are an auditory learner, you learn by hearing. You often learn by reading out aloud because you have to hear it or speak it in order to remember it.

Here are some things that auditory learners can do to learn better.

- Sit where you can hear.
- Use cards to learn new words; read them out aloud.
- Read stories or material out aloud.
- Record yourself when you are spelling words and then listen to the recording.
- Study new material by reading it out aloud.

If you are a visual learner, you learn by reading or seeing pictures. You like to see what you are learning.

Here are some things that visual learners can do to learn better.

Dear Mr. Miller,

Recently I had a discussion about ways to learn English with my classmate Joe. In his opinion, the best ways to learn English are by reading English newspapers and by talking with friends in English. He also believes that watching English films isn't a bad way.

However, I think we can find some English articles to read by searching on the Internet. Also, we can find some pen pals from English-speaking countries so that we can improve our English by writing e-mails to them. Finally, joining an English club is also a great help.

What's your opinion? Please write to me.

Best wishes,

Tony
